Can't make a LIVE session?

While we highly recommend you attend sessions live for the participation factor, we understand sometimes that's not possible. All live sessions are recorded and available until the end of the calendar year. You can watch when it's convenient for you, but I suggest "catching up" before the next week's session.

Who is this program for?

All are welcome —our attendees are most often:

- Senior women executives
- Mid-tier women managers
- Emerging women leaders

How much time is required each week?

We suggest setting aside 90 minutes a week for six weeks to attend the LIVE class or to watch the recording
